THE above are First Class, justly popular, and prompt paying companies. They invite investigation into their condition and solicit business entirely upon their real merits. In point of solvency and reliability and honorable dealing, they have but few equals, and no superiors. They are founded upon the very best securities in the world—first class bonds and mortgages upon property in New York and Brooklyn—securities that have not, for the past ten years, depreciated below par, and are every way more reliable and permanent than railroad, bank, and other stocks, which are subject to the fluctuations of the market, and liable, in times of panic, as the experience of the past teaches, to become almost, if not entirely, valueless. And while there are Companies entering the field of competition, well calculated to mislead by publishing partial and one-sided statements of their condition, and without a cash surplus on hand sufficient to reinsure their outstanding risks, the above named companies always have and keep over and above their capital twice the amount, and in most instances four times, needed for the reinsurance of all their risks. With such a foundation, and with such a condition, they claim the right to look with confidence to the public for liberal patronage.

Policies issued without delay, and farms risks for a series of years taken at less rates than can be done by Mutual Companies, and a certainty given instead of an uncertainty. All losses promptly adjusted and paid.

New York Life Insurance Company,

DAILY GAZETTE.

Three Per Cent. a Month.

ANECDOTE OF JAMES G. KING.

I have said that James G. King was a great friend of Daniel Webster. So he was of Nicholas Biddle. At one time such was the influence of Mr. King that he held Wall street in his hand, and some profane persons named him the "Almighty of Wall street." He was fond of a little fun occasionally, and liked a good joke or a good story. He held a share in the celebrated "Tontine Stock." (By the way, I mean to give you a list of all the original members of the Tontine, and of such members as are now living. I think all the Gracie family and the King family had stock in the Tontine.)

Mr. King had a horror of three and four per cent a month operations. On one occasion, a merchant who was doing a very extensive business, and for whom Mr. King felt a sincere friendship, came to him and said:

"Mr. King, I keep four large bank accounts, and I have offered heavily the best paper for discount. It is flung out as fast as I offer it. I shall have to go on the street and do as others do, get heavily shaved. Money is worth now three per cent a month. I have got to pay it. I do not see why I should not pay that to your house as well as on the street. I know you object to such transactions, but I cannot help myself. I will bring down my portfolio. It contains in bills receivable over $200,000 of A No. 1 business paper. You can take your selection. I must have $100,000 in cash before another week."

"No business can stand such a premium for money any length of time. It will use up a million capital very speedily," said Mr. King.

"Oh, not at all. My business will justify my paying any rate of interest, however exorbitant."

"Why discount for a short time? Why not make it for two or three years? I will not discount your good business paper.—Pay your debts with it. I will discount your note for $100,000, if you will make it this year."

"Thank you, Mr. King. I will draw it at once. It is very kind in you, but don't you want collateral?"

"No sir. Mr. Miller, (turning to his accountant) take off the discount at three per cent a month on $100,000 for three years, and draw a check for the balance for Mr. D. Wait a moment, D., or give me your note for $100,000."

Note of Mr. D. for $100,000
(Payable three years after date.)
Discount at three per cent a month is thirty-six per cent per year, and for three years is 108 per cent, or 108,000

Balance due to Prime, Ward & King, $8,000

"D., have you a bank check with you?" pleasantly asked Mr. King.

"A bank check? What for?"

"Why, Miller has handed me a statement and I find that if we discount or shave your note for three years for $100,000 at three per cent a month, you will have to pay us $8,000."

"Why this is absurd. I give you my note for $100,000, and get no cash in return, but have to give you $8,000 cash,—Bah!"

"Be cool, D., and listen. I have done this purposely to learn you a lesson, to show you where your mercantile career will end if you submit to such extortion. Now if you will pledge me your word and honor that you will curtail your business and never pay any more than seven per cent interest for money to carry your trade, I will tell you what I will do. You want $100,000. Draw your note for that sum at ninety days, leave with me $100,000 of your best notes receivable, and I will give you the money, less the ordinary discount of seven per cent.

Mr. D. was grateful. He appreciated the lesson taught by Mr. King, and he is at present moment of the wealthiest men in the city of New York.

A HORSE GETTING HIMSELF SHOD.—A horse having been turned into a field by its owner, Joseph Lane, of Fascomb, in the parish of Ashelworth, was missed therefrom the next morning, and the usual inquiries were set afoot as to what could have become of him. He had, it seems, been shod a few days before, and as usual got pinched in a foot. Feeling, no doubt, a lively sense of proper shoeing, and desirous of relieving the pain, he contrived to unhang the gate of his pasture with his mouth, and make the best of his way to the smithy, a distance of a mile and a half from Fascomb, waiting respectfully at the door until the bungling artist got up.

The smith relates that he found him there at the opening of his shed; that the horse advanced to the forge and held up his ailing foot; and that he himself, upon examination, discovered the injury, took off the shoe, and replaced it more carefully; which having been done, the sagacious animal set off at a merry pace homewards.—Soon after Mr. Lane's servant passed by the forge, and upon inquiry received for an answer, "Oh, he has been here and got shod, and gone home again."

A HUMAN INCONSISTENCY.—The life of Goethe was one of great contradictions. Before he was eight years old he was exercising in German, French, Italian, Latin and Greek, yet he did not die of brain fever or dropsy in the head. He drank wine, was prodigal of his money, and was odd in his manners. His "social faults looked society contemptuously in the face," but as a swordsman, a rider and a skater, beyond most of his time, he lived to the the age of eighty-two years. He wrote one of the most doleful books ever published, known as the Sorrows of Werther, yet himself took life without sadness, and enjoyed it to the full. His writings gave out a light of their kind, in the glare of which multitudes still delight to live; yet at the age of sixty he doubted the existence of a Divine Providence, and at the age of eighty-two he died exclaiming: "More light!"—Hall's Journal of Health.

The following is a list of the officers of the Chinese Baptist church recently organized in California, all of which were chosen by ballot: Pastor, Shuck Scon Sang; Deacon, Tsay Fock; Clerk, Fong Fo; Treasurer, Wong Chong. This is the first church composed entirely of former idolaters in the United States.—Exchange.

The recording angel can write these names as easily as he can John Smith's, but wouldn't they put the Trump of Fame to its trumps?—Chicago Journal.

Important Discoveries and New Arrangements!

THE subscriber has discovered upon his premises a splendid

which promises to surpass anything yet found in the state, as well as add to the many already developed resources of our city,

A Beautiful, Cheap and Durable Building Material.

He has made arrangements to work this, together with the justly celebrated

Monterey Lime Stone Quarry, on a scale equal to the demands of our enterprising citizens, and in order to accommodate his numerous customers, he has made arrangements to keep constantly on hand a large supply of

ATHENS MARBLE

(or Chicago stone.) He is now fitting up extensive saw and scouring mills, and other machinery necessary for working the same, at a great reduction from former prices.

He also wishes to call attention to the fact that sound cutting or dimension stone can only be found at great distances from the surface, and that the Monterey Quarry is the only one in this county that has been worked far enough to reach those formations that are imperishable when exposed to the action of air and frost.

He is also supplying his Quarry with Derricks to facilitate the handling and loading large stone, and is fitting up expensive wagons, carts and trucks, rigged with the most approved appliances for moving and delivering dimension stone of any size, from two to thirty feet square, and from six to twenty inches thick, or any required length up to one hundred feet, to any part of the city or on board of the cars.

He is prepared to furnish

Cut Stone
of every description,
PLAIN, MOULDED, CARVED OR POLISHED FLAGGING
of any required dimension.
Curbing, Paving, Ruble and Coursing

stone of, the best quality in the state, all of which will be delivered at his Quarries or any part of the city, to suit purchasers.

In conclusion, he begs to assure the public that from the superior quality of his materials, and facilities for furnishing, he can and will make it to their interests to patronize the Monterey Quarries.

All Orders from the city or country will be promptly attended to.

THE above are First Class, justly popular, and prompt paying companies. They invite investigation into their condition and solicit business entirely upon their real merits. In point of solvency and reliability and honorable dealing, they have but few equals, and no superiors. They are founded upon the very best securities in the world—first class bonds and mortgages upon property in New York and Brooklyn—securities that have not, for the past ten years, depreciated below par, and are every way more reliable and permanent than railroad, bank, and other stocks, which are subject to the fluctuations of the market, and liable, in times of panic, as the experience of the past teaches, to become almost, if not entirely, valueless. And while there are Companies entering the field of competition, well calculated to mislead by publishing partial and one-sided statements of their condition, and without a cash surplus on hand sufficient to reinsure their outstanding risks, the above named companies always have and keep over and above their capital twice the amount, and in most instances four times, needed for the reinsurance of all their risks. With such a foundation, and with such a condition, they claim the right to look with confidence to the public for liberal patronage.

Policies issued without delay, and farm risks for a series of years taken at less rates than can be done by Mutual Companies, and a certainty given instead of an uncertainty. All losses promptly adjusted and paid.

New York Life Insurance Company,

DAILY GAZETTE.

Three Per Cent. a Month.

ANECDOTE OF JAMES G. KING.

I have said that James G. King was a great friend of Daniel Webster. So he was of Nicholas Biddle. At one time such was the influence of Mr. King that he held Wall street in his hand, and some profane persons named him the "Almighty of Wall street." He was fond of a little fun occasionally, and liked a good joke or a good story. He held a share in the celebrated "Tontine Stock." (By the way, I mean to give you a list of all the original members of the Tontine, and of such members as are now living. I think all the Gracie family and the King family had stock in the Tontine.)

Mr. King had a horror of three and four per cent a month operations. On one occasion, a merchant who was doing a very extensive business, and for whom Mr. King felt a sincere friendship, came to him and said:

"Mr. King, I keep four large bank accounts, and I have offered heavily the best paper for discount. It is flung out as fast as I offer it. I shall have to go on the street and do as others do, get heavily shaved. Money is worth now three per cent a month. I have got to pay it. I do not see why I should not pay that to your house as well as on the street. I know you object to such transactions, but I cannot help myself. I will bring down my portfolio. It contains in bills receivable over $200,000 of A No. 1 business paper. You can take your selection. I must have $100,000 in cash before another week."

"No business can stand such a premium for money any length of time. It will use up a million capital very speedily," said Mr. King.

"Oh, not at all. My business will justify my paying any rate of interest, however exorbitant."

"Why discount for a short time? Why not make it for two or three years? I will not discount your good business paper.—Pay your debts with it. I will discount your note for $100,000, if you will make it this year."

"Thank you, Mr. King. I will draw it at once. It is very kind in you, but don't you want collateral?"

"No sir. Mr. Miller, (turning to his accountant) take off the discount at three per cent a month on $100,000 for three years, and draw a check for the balance for Mr. D. Wait a moment, D., or give me your note for $100,000."

The conversation became general, both were seated, when Mr. Miller, the accountant handed the following memorandum to Mr. King:

Note of Mr. D. for (Payable three years after date.)	$100,000
Discount at three per cent a month is thirty-six per cent per year, and for three years is 108 per cent, or	108,000
Balance due to Prime, Ward & King,	$8,000

"D., have you a bank check with you?" pleasantly asked Mr. King.

"A bank check? What for?"

"Why, Miller has handed me a statement and I find that if we discount or shave your note for three years for $100,000 at three per cent a month, you will have to pay us $8,000."

"Why this is absurd. I give you my note for $100,000, and get no cash in return, but have to give you $8,000 cash.—Bah!"

"Be cool, D., and listen. I have done this purposely to learn you a lesson, to show you where your mercantile career will end if you submit to such extortion. Now if you will pledge me your word and honor that you will curtail your business and never pay any more than seven per cent interest for money to carry your trade, I will tell you what I will do. You want $100,000. Draw your note for that sum at ninety days, leave with me $100,000 of your best notes receivable, and I will give you the money, less the ordinary discount of seven per cent.

Mr. D. was grateful. He appreciated the lesson taught by Mr. King, and he is at present moment of the wealthiest men in the city of New York.

A HORSE GETTING HIMSELF SHOD.—A horse having been turned into a field by its owner, Joseph Lane, of Fascomb, in the parish of Ashelworth, was missed therefrom the next morning, and the usual inquiries were set afoot as to what could have become of him. He had, it seems, been shod a few days before, and as usual got pinched in a foot. Feeling, no doubt, a lively sense of proper shoeing, and desirous of relieving the pain, he contrived to unhang the gate of his pasture with his mouth, and make the best of his way to the smithy, a distance of a mile and a half from Fascomb, waiting respectfully at the door until the bungling artist got up.

The smith relates that he found him there at the opening of his shed; that the horse advanced to the forge and held up his ailing foot; and that he himself, upon examination, discovered the injury, took off the shoe, and replaced it more carefully; which having been done, the sagacious animal set off at a merry pace homewards.—Soon after Mr. Lane's servant passed by the forge, and upon inquiry received for an answer, "Oh, he has been here and got shod, and gone home again."

A HUMAN INCONSISTENCY.—The life of Goethe was one of great contradictions. Before he was eight years old he was exercising in German, French, Italian, Latin and Greek, yet he did not die of brain fever or dropsy in the head. He drank wine, was prodigal of his money, and was odd in his manners. His "social faults looked society contemptuously in the face," but as a swordsman, a rider and a skater, beyond most of his time, he lived to the the age of eighty-two years. He wrote one of the most doleful books ever published, known as the Sorrows of Werther, yet himself took life without sadness, and enjoyed it to the full. His writings gave out a light of their kind, in the glare of which multitudes still delight to live; yet at the age of sixty he doubted the existence of a Divine Providence, and at the age of eighty-two he died exclaiming: "More light!"—Hall's Journal of Health.

The following is a list of the officers of the Chinese Baptist church recently organized in California, all of which were chosen by ballot: Pastor, Shuck Seon Sang; Deacon, Tsuy Fook; Clerk, Fong Fo; Treasurer, Wong Chong. This is the first church composed entirely of former idolaters in the United States.—Exchange.

The recording angel can write these names as easily as he can John Smith's, but wouldn't they put the Trump of Fame to its trumps?—Chicago Journal.

He also wishes to call attention to the fact that sound cutting or dimension stone can only be found at great distances from the surface, and that the Monterey Quarry is the only one in this county that has been worked far enough to reach those formations that are imperishable when exposed to the action of air and frost.

He is also supplying his Quarry with Derricks to facilitate the handling and loading large stone, and is fitting up expensive wagons, carts and trucks, rigged with the most approved appliances for moving and delivering dimension stone of any size, from two to thirty feet square, and from six to twenty inches thick, or any required length up to one hundred feet, to any part of the city or on board of the cars.

A New Arrangement.

Hereafter we shall print a column or more of reading matter on our first page. This arrangement is adopted for the benefit of [illegible], and under it an advertisement will have as good a position on the outside as the inside of the paper.

[For the Daily Gazette.]

In the published proceedings of the Wide Awake club, I notice my election as [illegible] lieutenant of that body. Now, though I am fully aware and appreciate the kind[illegible] of the members who bestowed that [illegible] position upon me, I ask you to announce my declension of the office.

Expenses of Speakers.—We wish, now, at the opening of the campaign, to call the attention of our republican friends to a matter of some importance. It is this: When gentlemen are called upon to go into the country to attend meetings, they have to leave their business, spend a day, hire a team, and it is as little as our friends can do to pay the bills of such gentlemen. We know several citizens of this city who have gone out at the call of republicans, and then were left to foot their own bills, in addition to spending their time and furnishing their own teams. We hope our friends will not forget this. Our speakers are willing to go, and will not disappoint a meeting when an appointment is made, but fairness requires that the expense should not be all on the side of those who confer the favor.

Milwaukee Schools.—The schools are again opened. The High Schools are to be conducted by the former principals, free of expense to the city, there being a fee paid by those in attendance. This, of course, practically excludes all but those able to pay, from the benefits of, what until now, has been regarded as one department of the public schools.

Stockholders' Meeting.—The following despatch has been received by the conductor of the Chicago & Northwestern railway in this city:

Such of the stockholders as wish to attend the meeting on the 7th, will pay their fare to Chicago, which will be refunded and a return pass given. No ladies will be passed. We adopt this course on account of our conductors not knowing who are entitled to passes. J. R. Young, Sec'y.

☞ The Madison Journal says that Dr. James L. Thayer, now traveling with Van Amburgh's circus in the capacity of clown, formerly resided in Madison. We think it mistaken. The Dr. Thayer that lived there was Dr. S. B. Thayer, and was a man of too good sense to be a clown for a circus.

Gradual repentance is like a man who wants to be taken out from a burning building, but who says to those about him:—"Now, don't take me out too suddenly; take me down first to a room where it is not so hot as it is here; and then to another where there is still less heat; and so take me out gradually." Why, the man would be a cinder before you got him out!

A man who wants to reform, should reform perpendicularly.

The political prospects of Canada never looked worse than they do now. The Canadians are cursed with the most venal and corrupt administration that ever was known in the annals of the country. Their sole object seems to be plundering the public chest and keeping themselves in favor by buying the support of the French members from Lower Canada at most ruinous prices. These French have always been bitterly hostile to the more progressive Anglo Saxon population of the western frontiers of the province, and are the great obstructions to the proper development of the resources of Western Canada, by their factious opposition in parliament, to every useful measure yet introduced. They killed the homestead bill in the last session and with it died the last hope of retrieving the country from being utterly ruined and deserted.

So heavy is the taxation here that all who are not tied down by having unsaleable landed estate are migrating to the states. The population of Hamilton alone has fallen off 10,000 in a few years, and the numerous foundries and manufactories erected a few years since are now closed and left to rot. The injudicious policy of allowing the municipality to borrow money for local improvements has resulted disastrously for them, and when the money borrowed has to be paid, at the maturity of their debentures, they cannot be paid; the interest alone is all they can pay, and that with difficulty.—Hamilton with a population of 20,000, owes two millions of dollars, on which interest to the amount of $132,000 has to be paid.—As a consequence, taxation has become so high that property in the city is unsaleable, and houses are offered to let for the taxes alone.

Life Insurance.

Those desiring this safest and cheapest protection for their families can secure it in our Wisconsin company. It has already become, in reality, a state institution, having agents and patrons among the best business men in all the principal towns in the state. It is no longer a matter of doubt that life insurance can be conducted as well in Wisconsin as in Connecticut or any other eastern state.

While duty demands that men should insure their lives, it also demands that they should keep their money for investment at home. Confident that our success has been more than equal to that of the most "unprecedented," we would cordially invite all our citizens to call at the office, southwest corner of Main and Wisconsin streets, and examine for themselves.

S. S. DAGGETT, President.

A. W. Kellogg, Secretary.

☞ Messrs. Pixley & Harlow, produce dealers, and Capt. Geo. S. Dodge will receive applications for insurance in this home company, and will also be happy to give information as to the condition thereof, to any one desirous of being informed, in Janesville.

RECOMMENDATIONS FROM PRESIDENTS OF COLLEGES.

Within the last few weeks the publishers have received flattering testimonials of the merits of this edition, from nearly THIRTY Presidents of as many of the leading Colleges of the United States. Among them are from Presidents Frelinghuysen of Rutgers, Walker of Harvard, Hopkins of Williams, Stearns of Amherst, Cummings of Middletown, Nott of Union, Wayland of Providence, Jackson of Hobart, Woods of Brunswick, Lord of Dartmouth, Pease of Burlington, Ballou of Tufts, Gale of Galesville, Clampi of Holy Cross, Murphy of Abington, Labaree of Middlebury, Andrews of Marietta, Fisher of Hamilton, Read of Shurtliff, Sturtevant of Illinois, Reynolds of Illinois, Collins of Wilkinson, Anderson of Rochester, Wallace of Monmouth, Curtis of Knox &c. In them are expressions like the following:—

"An honor to American science, taste and criticism." "An enduring value and authority." "Never found any work which so uniformly satisfied my inquiries." "Has ever since been my constant companion in my practice at the bar, and for the last five years upon the bench.—I have ever found it a safe counsellor, and an indispensable help in the preparation and decision of cases." Slavery a "Divine Institution."

The Milwaukee News says that "the democratic party has never proclaimed that slavery is a divine institution." The democratic party proclaims its belief in the Dred Scott opinion, which acknowledges the sacredness of property, and says that property in slaves is as sacred as any other property. This is one way in which the party acknowledges the divinity of slavery.

There is another method which a large majority of the members of that party take to testify to their belief in slavery as a "divine institution." They attempt to justify it by quotations from the old and new testaments. You can scarcely find a "latter-day" democrat who will not argue by the hour in defence of this position. It is common for them to deny the truth of the Declaration of Independence, in their zeal for the support of slavery. We are astonished to see the News make the above denial.—The party which it supports is founded upon the idea that certain races of men are inferior and therefore beasts, and consequently dominion over them was given to the white man by the Almighty. Slavery is either a divine institution or it has no right to existence at all. It reduces a man to a chattel, to the condition of property. This cannot be done with any other species of property without the Divine sanction. The Douglas branch of the democratic party pretends not to care whether it is a man who is bought and sold, or whether it is a horse: but it is evident that in the territories no man can be sold unless the general government authorises and permits it.—There is no law in the territories but that of congress, or which is authorized by congress: so that these don't-care-Douglas-democrats must take the responsibility of the protection of slavery, or else it cannot exist. Their doctrine of non-intervention is a fallacy—they are obliged to support, sustain and protect slavery, or else it cannot exist. If they do support it, it must be on the ground that slaves are property, and the idea of property being derived only from Divine authority, they are compelled to admit that slavery is a "divine institution."

Highly Flavored.—Two negro shows were given in this city last Wednesday evening. One was at Albany Hall and conducted by Governor Randall, Carl Schurz & Co., and the other at the Academy of Music by Hooley & Campbell's minstrels.—Milwaukee News.

The greatest "nigger show" of the season will come off at Baltimore on the 18th, where a darkie from Illinois is to be slaughtered, and his banjo (squatter sovereignty) burned by the fire-eaters. There will be howling among that colored individual's friends in Wisconsin, on the occasion, and the News will be dressed in black.

☞ The recent change of the rule proposed in the Methodist Episcopal general conference amounted to this: The rule as it stood prohibits the buying and selling of men, women and children with an intention to enslave them; the amendment proposed was to add the words or holding, which would exclude slaveholders under any and all circumstances. The vote stood for the change 138 against 74. The ayes being less than two-thirds, the majority required, the rule stands unchanged. The chapter was changed, however, in accordance with the alteration proposed in the rule. This is not mandatory, but is merely an expression of opinion, and practically amounts to but little.

Severity of Canadian Laws for the Collection of Debts.—A correspondent of the Toronto Globe relates the particulars of a case in which a physician in good standing, having somehow got unfortunately into debt, was suddenly pounced upon and completely stripped of his property by his merciless creditors. He had a small farm, a part of which his children were plowing preparatory to planting potatoes, a quantity having been distributed in the field for that purpose. The potatoes were seized by one creditor, the horse which the doctor used in his practice by another.—Another flinty-hearted creditor cleared the house of the family provisions, and still another grabbed the doctor's medical books. A respectable physician, together with his family, were thus not only deprived of their present subsistence, but of the means of earning more.

City Bonds. Judge Miller's Decision.

CHARLES LULING vs. THE CITY OF RACINE.

I see by articles in various newspapers of this state, that the recent opinion of the U. S. District Court in this case is supposed to be in conflict with the late decision of the supreme court of this state in the cases of Clark et al vs. The City of Janesville, and Bushnell vs. The Town of Beloit.

I am pretty familiar with these two cases, and I have read carefully the printed report of Judge Miller's opinion.

The legislature by a special act authorized the town of Beloit to subscribe stock in a railroad company, and pay for it in the bonds of the town. The town was already an existing quasi corporation when the act was passed, and all that was authorized to be done under that act was confined to the town of Beloit; it was a local, private or special act, and affected nobody but the people of Beloit. It did not affect the people of the state, nor any part of the state, except those living in Beloit.

This law, the supreme court held, was local and special in its character, and needed not to be published before it was in force, and held the town of Beloit liable on its bonds issued in pursuance of its provisions.

On the 19th of March 1853, the act incorporating the city of Janesville was passed, and the last section is, "this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage."

The constitution of this state is in these words: "The legislature shall provide by law for the speedy publication of all laws, and of such judicial decisions made within this state as may be deemed expedient.—And no general law shall be in force until published." The "act to incorporate the city of Janesville" created a new political subdivision of the state; and in this charter and nowhere else was contained the provision authorizing the common council to submit to the legal voters the question of taking stock in railroads, and to issue bonds to pay for the same.

In the case of Clark vs. the City of Janesville, the supreme court held that this charter was a general law; one which needed to be published, one of which the courts were bound to take judicial notice, one of which all persons in the state were bound to take notice, and one, which in many of its provisions, affected the whole people of the state, and that it was not in force until it was published; and that therefore the act of the pretended city council in submitting the question of taking stock to the legal voters and in issuing the bonds, was void.

I do not think the reasoning of Mr. Justice Paine, who delivered the opinion, can be controverted. It will be seen from the foregoing statement that different results were arrived at in the two cases in the supreme court. In the Beloit case it is held that the act of the legislature was a private, special act, conferring authority upon a quasi corporation then in existence, to do a local act which it could not do before. In the Janesville case, it is held that the act was general, creating a political subdivision of the state, and until published was ineffectual and of no force for any purpose.

The case entitled at the head of this article is parallel with the Beloit case. The city of Racine was chartered and organized before 1853. In 1853 the legislature, by special act, authorized the city council to borrow $350,000 for the purpose of investing $300,000 in the stock of the Racine and Mississippi railroad company, and $50,000 in the stock of a company authorized to construct a road on the shore of Lake Michigan, or to take stock in these companies and issue bonds to pay for the stock. The district court, I think very properly, held that the want of publication was no legal objection or defence to the bonds.

Thus far there is no conflict between the state court and the federal court. But Judge Miller in the course of his opinion says that even if the act should be considered by the courts to be a general law in the sense of the constitution, affecting the whole people of the state, and which should have been published before going into effect, contrary to the legislative declaration and intention, still the want of publication would be no defence—that the contract was entered into with the plaintiff under a law acknowledged by all parties to be valid, at the time he parted with his money. This would seem to be in conflict with the doctrine of the supreme court, and yet a careful examination of the facts I think will show that the Janesville city bonds would not come within the doctrine of this case were they before the judge of the district court.

He says "it is the appropriate duty of the supreme court of the state to construe the constitution and the statutes of the state; and it is the bounden duty of this court to adopt such construction, in cases involving or requiring it."

Now nothing can be clearer than that it is a question of constitutional construction whether that part of the "act incorporating the city of Janesville," which declares that it "shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage" is valid or invalid. No one will doubt that so much of a general act as declares that it shall be in force before publication, will be void, because the constitution says it shall not be in force till published. Then whether an act is or is not within this provision of the constitution is a constitutional question, involves a construction of the constitution of the state, and as the supreme court has decided upon this act, construed the constitution with reference to it, which construction Judge Miller says his court is bound to adopt, I do not see but he will be bound to hold that publication of the Janesville city charter was necessary before there could be a city or municipal corporation formed or organized under it. And as it is clear that the city of Janesville is not liable for any act of the men who not only usurped offices which had not been created by law, but set in motion the machinery of a city government, when there was no city created by law or in existence, the want of publication of the charter must continue to be a good defence to the city in all suits brought against her on these bonds, in whatsoever court.

There is one thing more in this connection. These bonds have once been before Judge Miller, and he decided that no suit could be maintained in the federal courts upon them against the city. The reason is that they are not negotiable, but payable to the R. R. V. U. R. R. Co., or its assigns, and do not pass without an assignment in writing. The R. R. Co. could not sue there; its assignee is in the same situation. Were our bonds payable to bearer, or like the Racine bonds, to the holder, we could be sued there. Were they payable to order, so as to require an endorsement, they could not. Let us wait patiently until we are able and willing to pay, and not indulge in any fears of the district court of the United States.

Foreign News.—News from Liverpool to the 23d has been received. Garibaldi was not defeated at Mucilla, but obtained a decided victory. The insurgents were gaining strength. The English house of lords has rejected the common's bill repealing the duty on paper, by a majority against the government of 89. The Chinese government absolutely refuses the ultimatum of England and France, and war is the only alternative. Flour is reported dull but nominally unchanged.

☞ The Revere house at Chicago is to be torn down and a business block put in its place.

☞ There were between three and five thousand people at the republican ratification meeting in Washington on the 28th ult. Senator Doolittle's speech on the occasion is highly spoken of.

☞ At Philadelphia the ratification meeting exceeded in enthusiasm any political gathering which has taken place in that city, since 1840. The whole opposition is united for Lincoln and Hamlin.

☞ According to the democratic papers Mr. Seward is the wisest, best and most foully treated man in the whole country.—If he should be nominated for President in 1864, these fellows would be in a fine predicament.

☞ It is supposed that the appointee in place of Judge Daniels, deceased, will be from Virginia. If not, he will be southern in his sentiments. It is said that the President would appoint Judge Black, but Pennsylvania already has a member of the court in Judge Grier.

☞ The Japanese "nine days wonder" has come to an end in Washington, where they are considered a nuisance. There are sixty untitled plebians among them, and of course these soonest fall into disrepute in this democratic country.

ALL SORTS OF PARAGRAPHS.

Bogus half dollars are plentier than genuine ones at La Crosse, and two young men have been arrested for passing them.

A. W. Hicks, the New York pirate, has been sentenced to be hung on Bedloe's Island on the 13th inst.

In reference to democratic sneers at Lincoln as "rail splitter," a Philadelphia paper says: "We will venture to predict that his fencing will prove stronger than all their railing."

Among the premiums offered by the Hancock agricultural society, is one of "$10 to any ten men from one town, that shall excel in a hand trial of strength with a drag rope."

Universalist State Convention.—The annual meeting of this body will be held in the First Presbyterian church, in Beaver Dam, Wednesday and Thursday next, June 6th and 7th.

New Orleans must be a pleasant abiding place in warm weather. Last week one Thomas Toby jumped from the third story of a house and was seriously injured. The only reason he could assign for the act was that the musquitoes frenzied him so that he threw his bedding out of the window and followed it up.

Combination of Rubber Interest.—It is stated that a combination of the hostile rubber interests of Day and Goodyear is about to take place. A company or association, with a large sum of money, will buy out all the interests and manufacture the various phases of rubber goods throughout the United States. It will probably be one of the largest operations in the world.—What will the lawyers do then?

A Thorough Bread Knight.—The King of Sardinia has knighted the patriotic baker, Giuseppe Dolfi. No doubt the worthy knight of the oven will prove himself a doughty champion; his achievements will be recorded in the rolls of fame, and he will be acknowledged as the flour of chivalry.

A considerable quantity of golden images from the Huecas of Chiriqui have been lately received at Panama. They were extracted from the lately discovered Huecas to the westward of those which proved so productive last year. About $50,000 worth have been extracted.

Subscription for Sayers in England. The subscription for Sayers in England now amounts to $25,000. Three hundred members of parliament subscribed one guinea each.

The tax-payers of Racine are to have a meeting this evening, to take into consideration the position in which Judge Miller's recent decision has placed them, and to consider the propriety of instructing the city authorities to carry the case to the United States supreme court.

A complete set of the coinage of cents by the United States from 1793 to the present year is considered a great treasure.—There were issues in every year but 1815; but those of 1804, '5, '6, '8 and '11, and 1823 and 1857 are quite scarce. There are two entire sets in Springfield, Massachusetts.

An extra apportionment of the income of the school fund of this state is to be made next December, provided $20,000 has been paid in by that time.

Gate Hinges.—For the hook, or upper hinge of a gate, it is recommened to cut a coarse screw on the shank, and screw it into the post. Enough of it should be left out, so that when the gate sags the screw can be turned in further.

The "Times" on Garibaldi's Expedition.—The London Times of the 18th says:

"A man like Garibaldi is sure to do something worthy of note; if not successful, he will at least be heroic; if he does not subvert, he will shake a throne; if the Sicilians do not remember him as a deliverer, they will cherish his memory as a martyr. He will neither sneak out of his enterprise, like a Spanish Bourbon, nor will he carry it on in a manner to insure the distraction of himself and his followers like John Brown. He may fail, but he will be a terror to the heart of the worst government in Europe; he will have lighted a candle in the south of Italy which will never be put out, and, though he may not live to see the day, yet the liberation of the whole peninsula from that thraldom which the north has already thrown off will be principally his work."

"Strike while the iron is hot," is an excellent motto; but a still more striking one for a man is this:—"Make the iron hot by striking it."

Proper Pronunciation of Lincoln.—The nomination of Abraham Lincoln, as the republican candidate for president, has raised the question to its proper pronunciation—many contending that it should be pronounced according to its literal orthography—Lincollen. All the best authorities, however, agree in pronouncing it as they do out west—Linken. Below we give three leading authorities on the subject.

Link-on—Lippincott's Gazetteer.
Link-un—Webster's Unabridged.

In Illinois, where everybody claims the privilege of familiarity with "Old Abe," they have somewhat improved on the above, and speak of the distinguished Sucker as "Old Abe Linkon."

Faith and Works.—An ardent young republican rushed into the Herald office in Cleveland last Monday, and handed Benedict a manuscript which read thus:

Two things are necessary to salvation, viz: Faith and Works. In Abraham we have faith, and in Hannibal, works. The country is saved.

The young man fainted.

We learn by the Glasgow that on the 17th inst., Lady Byron, the widow of the great poet, died at London, in the 66th year of her age. She was born in 1794, and was the only daughter and heir of Sir Ralph Milbanke Noel, Baronet. In 1856 she succeeded to the barony of Wentworth. She was married to Lord Byron in 1815—the union proving, as is well known, most unhappy to both husband and wife, and he lived with his wife only some thirteen days.

Lady Byron took an active interest in philanthropic and benevolent movements, and in 1856 she sent a gift of three hundred and fifty dollars to the New England Kansas Emigration Society. We can scarcely recall a lady of the present century whose name has been so often brought before the public, and in such a singular way, by her relations with others, rather than by any desire or effort on her part to obtain publicity.—*N. A New Arrangement.

Hereafter we shall print a column or more of reading matter on our first page. This arrangement is adopted for the benefit of advertisers, and under it an advertisement will have as good a position on the outside as on the inside of the paper.

To the Editors of the Daily Gazette:—

In the published proceedings of the Wide-Awake club, I notice my election as 4th lieutenant of that body. Now, though I am fully aware and appreciate the kind feeling of the members who bestowed that honorable position upon me, I ask you to announce my declension of the office.

Such a novel proceeding as the declension of any office, either of honor or profit, perhaps requires, and if it does not require, certainly justifies, a statement of the reasons which lead to it, and with your permission, I will state those which have led to my action.

You are aware that I hold, through the partiality of our excellent republican governor, a commisssion as "Lieutenant Colonel" in the invincible militia of the state of Wisconsin, and that my only superior officer in the veteran 9th regiment is our distinguished citizen and accomplished tactician, James M. Burgess. Above us, i. e. James and I, successively tower only Brigadier General James Sotherland, Major General David Atwood, Adjutant General Amasa Cobb, and Commander-in-Chief Alexander W. Randall. Thus, you see, I am out-ranked by only five men in an organisation upon which rests the blood-bought liberties of a free people. And, in the spirit of frankness and candor, with which this communication is conceived, I confess that when you advertised as a "missing man" my immediately superior officer, I began to think of succeeding to his position, and from thence, in a regular promotion, to commander-in-chief. In military matters, you are aware, promotion is always upward, never downward, and when I saw my appointment as "fourth lieutenant" in a merely local body, I considered a fundamental and established rule violated, and that the dignity I had already attained (to say nothing of the expectations entertained,) required my prompt declension of the proffered honor, as due to myself and the service in which I hold so distinguished a rank.

In declining this honor I wish to be understood as casting no reflections upon the military genius or acquirements of Capt. Sleeper, or his veteran Lieutenants Tallman, Putman, and Balch; or, as in any way indicating any disapproval of the objects of the organisation of which they are the chosen leaders. I am a "wide-awake" in politics as in war; and quite as ready to make an assault upon the ranks of a bogus democracy as upon the serried columns of a foreign foe. I am after the honor of the thing! A lieutenant colonel of the militia of Wisconsin, only five degrees removed from commander-in-chief, entitled to wear chapeau and plume, epaulets, sword and spurs, holster and pistols, descending to fourth lieutenant in a wide-awake club, armed with a tin torch-lamp, a yellow striped cloth cap and an india rubber weather cape! why, Messrs. Editors, the idea is not to be tolerated. If I should be guilty of such a thing, I should fear a court martial trial at once, and suspension from the service would be the lightest penalty I could have any reason to expect. No, sirs; I go up, or I don't go at all. Col. Burgess', Brigadier General Satherland's, Major General Atwood's, Adjutant General Cobb's, and Commander-in-Chief Randall's successor will not sully his or their fame by any such unworthy act as promotion downwards.

Yours truly,

C. LOFTUS MARTIN,

Lieut. Col. 9th Regiment W. S. M.

P. S. I wish it understood that the initials "W. S. M." indicates the "Wisconsin State Militia," and not the "Worshipful Sons of Malta."

WESTERN STAR LODGE.—This lodge will meet to-morrow evening, at 7½ o'clock, for special business. A full attendance of the members is ordered.

E. LEWIS, W. M.

PINE LOGS.—A large number of pine logs, amounting to two and a half million feet, are floating in Rock river, below the Jefferson Bridge, says the Jeffersonian. They belong to Mr. Norris, of this city and are to be rafted down to this place.

NEW POST OFFICE.—A new post office has been established at Alden's Corners, in Dane county.

RAIN AND HAIL.—There was a heavy storm of rain on Sunday night, accompanied with hail. A large amount of rain fell, which has had the effect to raise the river considerably. We are informed that rain fell to an average depth of three inches and a half. There was not much hail, in this vicinity, but some of the stones were an inch in diameter. The ground hereabouts is now thoroughly soaked with water, and more rain will be too much of a good thing.

We learn that north of this, about Fond du Lac, it commenced raining last night about the same time it did here, and that it was still raing this morning at 8 o'clock.—We may therefore expect high water in the river.

Strawberries were selling in Chicago yesterday for ten cents. Here they are selling to-day for 20 cents. That is a pretty good margin between the two places.—Wisconsin

Strawberries were selling at retail in this city last week at 15 cents per quart, and will probably be sold for a shilling this week. They are plenty and the rains will increase the crop.

☞ Strawberries are large as well as plenty this year. Mr. H. Jackman furnishes a specimen three inches in circumference. Who can beat that?

☞ The Mississippi river is four feet lower than it was ever known before.

EXPENSES OF SPEAKERS.—We wish, now, at the opening of the campaign, to call the attention of our republican friends to a matter of some importance. It is this: When gentlemen are called upon to go into the country to attend meetings, they have to leave their business, spend a day, hire a team, and it is as little as our friends can do to pay the bills of such gentlemen. We know several citizens of this city who have gone out at the call of republicans, and then were left to foot their own bills, in addition to spending their time and furnishing their own teams. We hope our friends will not forget this. Our speakers are willing to go, and will not disappoint a meeting when an appointment is made, but fairness requires that the expense should not be all on the side of those who confer the favor.

MILWAUKEE SCHOOLS.—The schools are again opened. The High Schools are to be conducted by the former principals, free of expense to the city, there being a fee paid by those in attendance. This, of course, practically excludes all but those able to pay, from the benefits of, what until now, has been regarded as one department of the public schools.

STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING.—The following despatch has been received by the conductor of the Chicago & Northwestern railway in this city:

Such of the stockholders as wish to attend the meeting on the 7th, will pay their fare to Chicago, which will be refunded and a return pass given. No ladies will be passed. We adopt this course on account of our conductors not knowing who are entitled to passes. J. R. YOUNG, Sec'y.

☞ The Madison Journal says that Dr. James L. Thayer, now traveling with Van Amburgh's circus in the capacity of clown, formerly resided in Madison. We think it mistaken. The Dr. Thayer that lived there was Dr. S. B. Thayer, and was a man of too good sense to be a clown for a circus.

Gradual repentance is like a man who wants to be taken out from a burning building, but who says to those about him:—"Now, don't take me out too suddenly; take me down first to a room where it is not so hot as it is here; and then to another where there is still less heat; and so take me out gradually." Why, the man would be a cinder before you got him out!

A man who wants to reform, should reform perpendicularly.

HARD TIMES IN CANADA.—A correspondent of the Rochester Advertiser draws the following strong picture of Canadian affairs:

The political prospects of Canada never looked worse than they do now. The Canadians are cursed with the most venal and corrupt administration that ever was known in the annals of the country. Their sole object seems to be plundering the public chest and keeping themselves in favor by buying the support of the French members from Lower Canada at most ruinous prices. These French have always been bitterly hostile to the more progressive Anglo Saxon population of the western frontiers of the province, and are the great obstructions to the proper development of the resources of Western Canada, by their factious opposition in parliament, to every useful measure yet introduced. They killed the homestead bill in the last session and with it died the last hope of retrieving the country from being utterly ruined and deserted.

So heavy is the taxation here that all who are not tied down by having unsaleable landed estate are migrating to the states. The population of Hamilton alone has fallen off 10,000 in a few years, and the numerous foundries and manufactories erected a few years since are now closed and left to rot. The injudicious policy of allowing the municipality to borrow money for local improvements has resulted disastrously for them, and when the money borrowed has to be paid, at the maturity of their debentures, they cannot be paid; the interest alone is all they can pay, and that with difficulty.—Hamilton with a population of 20,000, owes two millions of dollars, on which interest to the amount of $132,000 has to be paid.—As a consequence, taxation has become so high that property in the city is unsaleable, and houses are offered to let for the taxes alone.

Life Insurance.

Those desiring this safest and cheapest protection for their families, can secure it in our Wisconsin company. It has already become, in reality, a state institution, having agents and patrons among the best business men in all the principal towns in the state. It is no longer a matter of doubt that life insurance can be conducted as well in Wisconsin as in Connecticut or any other eastern state.

While duty demands that men should insure their lives, it also demands that they should keep their money for investment at home. Confident that our success has been more than equal to that of the most "unprecedented," we would cordially invite all our citizens to call at the office, southwest corner of Main and Wisconsin streets, and examine for themselves.

S. S. DAGGETT, President.

A. W. KELLOGG, Secretary.

☞ Messrs. Pixley & Harlow, produce dealers, and Capt. Geo. S. Dodge will receive applications for insurance in this home company, and will also be happy to give information as to the condition thereof, to any one desirous of being informed, in Janesville.

Insurance against loss or damage by fire on Dwellings, Furniture, Stores, Warehouses, Merchandise, Mills, Manufactories, and most other kinds of property, can be effected in this company upon as favorable terms as the nature of the risks and security of policy-holders will admit.

The above is the oldest company doing business in this state, and with peculiar propriety has been denominated "The Old Hartford." As an indemnity to the insured, it refers to a solid million of assets well invested; and if anything were needed to commend it to the public for liberal patronage, we might offer its history of success in business and honorable dealing with its patrons, for over half a century, as amply sufficient for the purpose.

RECOMMENDATIONS FROM PRESIDENTS OF COLLEGES.

Within the last few weeks the publishers have received flattering testimonials of the merits of this edition, from nearly THIRTY Presidents of as many of the leading Colleges of the United States. Among them are from Presidents Frelinghuysen of Rutgers, Walker of Harvard, Hopkins of Williams, Stearns of Amherst, Cummings of Middletown, Nott of Union, Wayland of Providence, Jackson of Hobart, Woods of Brunswick, Lord of Dartmouth, Pease of Burlington, Ballou of Tufts, Gale of Galesville, [illegible] of Holy Cross, [illegible] of [illegible], Andrews of Marietta, Fisher of Hamilton, Reed of Shurtliff, Sturtevant of Illinois, Reynolds of Illinois, Collins of Wilkinson, Anderson of Rochester, Wallace of Monmouth, Curtis of Knox &c. In these are expressions like the following:—"An honor to American science, taste and criticism." "An enduring value and authority." "Never found any work which so uniformly satisfied my inquiries." "It has ever since been my constant companion in my practice at the bar, and for the last five years upon the bench." "I have ever found it a safe counsellor, and an indispensable help in the preparation and decision of cases." "For the sake of my country and the English language, I rejoice in the wonderful standard excellence, as well as celebrity, your Dictionary has attained. It is a work for the present, and for all coming time." "I can say unquestionably preeminent." "There seems every prospect that it will be the standard book for this country, at least, if not for England. I can content it above so." "This truly great and national work." "A complete apparatus for purposes of reading and understanding English and American literature. It is difficult to conceive of anything that could be added to it for these ends." "A vast treasury of knowledge, the whole of which is needed by every one who uses the English language, either as a writer, a speaker, or a reader." "Ought to be a part of the furniture of every American home." "We long ago accepted Webster as the standard in our college, and the experience of every term strengthens our conviction of the wisdom of our choice." "So long as you continue to incorporate all the improvements which are developed in the science of lexicography," &c., &c. 30w2m.
